In re:

JIMENEZ ARMS, INC.,
Debtor.

Case No. 20-10752-ABL
Chapter 7

STIPULATION FOR DISCLAIMER OF INTEREST IN NON-ESTATE ASSET

Judge: Hon. August B. Landis

International Die Casting, Inc. ("IDC"), by and through counsel, Richard F. Holley, Esq. and Andrea M. Gandara, Esq. of the law firm Holley Driggs, and Chapter 7 Trustee Lenard E. Schwartzer (the "Trustee"), by and through counsel, Jason A. Imes, Esq. of the Schwartzer & McPherson Law Firm, hereby stipulate as follows:

1. On or about February 10, 2020, Debtor Jimenez Arms, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition, initiating the above-captioned bankruptcy proceeding.

2. The Debtor reported IDC as a supplier or vendor in its Statement of Financial Affairs. See ECF No. 10, p. 2 of 8, Item 3.3.

3. IDC contacted the Trustee and the Debtor, among others regarding turnover of certain steel molds (four to five pallets weighing an estimated 10,000 to 20,000 lbs.) (the "Molds") currently located at IDC's premises, 515 East Airline Way, Gardena, California 90248 (the "Premises").

4. IDC reported that these Molds were previously used to fulfill the Debtor's orders with IDC and requested confirmation of interest, if any, in the Molds so that turnover may be coordinated as quickly as possible.

5. Documentation from the bankruptcy case In re Bryco Arms, Case No. 03-04928, previously pending before U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Middle District of Florida appears to reflect purchase of certain molds by the Debtor's President/Owner Paul Jimenez, Sr. ("Mr. Jimenez"). See Documentation attached hereto as Exhibit 1.

6. Based on this documentation, and the Trustee's own investigation of the situation, the Trustee disclaims the Molds on behalf of the Debtor's bankruptcy estate.

IT IS SO STIPULATED.

Dated this 28th day of January, 2021.

Case No. 03-4928-3F1

ORDER APPROVING DEBTOR'S APPLICATION TO SELL CERTAIN ESTATE PROPERTY OUTSIDE THE ORDINARY COURSE OF BUSINESS

This case came before the Court upon Debtors' 11 U.S.C. § 363 Application to Sell Certain Estate Property Free and Clear of All Liens. The Court construes the Application as an Application to Sell Certain Estate Property Outside the Ordinary Course of Business. The Court conducted a hearing on June 17, 2004 and elected to take the matter under advisement.

Brandon James Maxfield ("Maxfield") is an individual who was injured when a handgun designed by Bruce Jennings ("Jennings"), manufactured by Bryco Arms, Inc. ("Bryco"), and distributed by B.L. Jennings, Inc. ("B.L. Jennings") accidentally discharged and injured him. Jennings is the owner of B.L. Jennings and the principal behind Bryco. Sometime in 2001 Maxfield commenced an action against Jennings, Bryco, and B.L. Jennings in California Superior Court to recover damages for the personal injuries he suffered ("Maxfield I").

On May 13, 2003 the jury in Maxfield I found Jennings, Bryco, and B.L. Jennings to be 48% at fault for Maxfield's injuries and found other parties, none of whom are debtors in these bankruptcy proceedings, to be 52% at fault. A judgment of $21,250,650.31 was entered against Jennings, Bryco, and B.L. Jennings. On May 14, 2003 Jennings, Bryco, and B.L. Jennings filed voluntary Chapter 11 bankruptcy petitions.

On November 3, 2003 Bryco filed Application to Sell Certain Estate Property Free and Clear of All Liens (the "First Motion to Sell"). The First Motion to Sell sought to sell Bryco's assets at an auction. On November 6, 2003 Maxfield objected. The Court scheduled a hearing for December 4, 2003. On December 3, 2003 Bryco filed a motion to continue the December 4, 2003 hearing. On that same day the Court entered an order continuing the hearing to February 19, 2004. On February 9, 2004 Bryco withdrew the First Motion to Sell.

On December 17, 2003 Bryco's counsel wrote a letter to Maxfield's counsel indicating that Bryco had procured a potential insider buyer to purchase Bryco's assets for $150,000. On December 19, 2003 Bryco's counsel informed Maxfield's counsel of the identity of the buyer. On February 3, 2004 Bryco filed Application to Sell Certain Estate Property Free and Clear of All Liens (the "Second Motion to Sell"). The Second Motion to Sell sought to sell certain personal property belonging to Bryco to Paul Jimenez ("Jimenez"), Bryco's former foreman, for $150,000. Attached to the Second Motion to Sell was a list of the property which was the subject of the Motion. On February 18, 2004 Maxfield filed an objection arguing that: (i) Jimenez did not have the resources to fund the purchase of the assets and was most likely "being backed" by Jennings or one of Jennings' family members; (ii) the assets were more valuable than $150,000; and (iii) Bryco's decision to cease its operations required the conversion of its case to Chapter 7 and/or the appointment of a trustee to conduct an auction to sell its assets. The Court scheduled a hearing for March 11, 2004. Upon request of the parties, the Court continued the hearing to April 23, 2004.

On April 22, 2004 Bryco and Maxfield filed Joint Motion for Continuance of Hearing on Debtors' Application to Sell Certain Estate Property Free and Clear of All Liens and for Order Establishing Bidding Procedures (the "Motion to Continue"). The Motion to Continue indicated that the parties sought a continuance to enable Maxfield to complete due diligence regarding the sale, including inspecting the facilities and taking Jimenez's deposition. The parties also sought to establish certain bid procedures in order to maximize the potential recovery for the estate. On that same day the Court entered Order (i) Granting Joint Motion for Continuance of Hearing on Debtor's Application to Sell Certain Estate Property to Paul Jimenez and (ii) Establishing Bidding Procedures (the "Order"). The Order continued the hearing to June 17, 2004. The Order noted that the initial bid would be no less than $150,000 and required Bryco to prepare and present to the United States Trustee and Maxfield a list of all the assets and rights being sold and all rights and assets being retained.<sup>1</sup> The Order was served on Debtor's counsel, Maxfield's counsel, and the United States Trustee and indicated that a copy of the Order was to be served on all creditors and parties in interest in Bryco's case with a certificate of service filed promptly thereafter. Bryco's counsel served the Order on all creditors and parties in interest on June 10, 2004.

At the commencement of the June 17, 2004 hearing Maxfield's counsel requested yet another continuance, explaining that he was attempting to publicize Maxfield's plight to the world in the hopes that the "anti-gunners" would step forward to enable Maxfield to purchase the assets and melt them down. The Court denied the motion for continuance.

<sup>1</sup> On May 13, 2004 Bryco provided Maxfield and the United States Trustee with a list of the assets and rights being sold and the assets and rights being retained.

Jennings testified on behalf of Bryco that the assets are worth between $80,000 and $100,000.<sup>2</sup> He also testified that Bryco ceased business operations at the end of February 2004 and continues to incur approximately $1,000 in expenses per day. Jimenez testified that he has worked in the gun business for 21 years, starting out as a machine operator and working his way up to Bryco's production manager. Jimenez testified that he will obtain the money to purchase Bryco's assets from Knowleton Communities, Inc., Bryco's landlord.

The approval of an application pursuant to § 363(b) requires a finding that a good business reason exists. In re Lionel Corp., 722 F.2d 1063, 1071 (2d. Cir. 1983). Maxfield objects to the sale on the following bases: (i) the proposed sale price is inadequate; (ii) the exclusion from the sale of Bryco's trade names, designs, customer lists, license rights, and prepaid parts chilled competitive bidding; (iii) the sale has not been promoted adequately; (iv) the sale has not been proposed in good faith; and (v) the sale is not in the best interests of creditors. The Court will address each objection in turn.

First, despite having known for over six months that Bryco sought to sell its assets to Jimenez for $150,000, Maxfield did not produce one shred of evidence that the proposed sale price is inadequate. Bryco, on the other hand, produced evidence that the assets are worth between $80,000-$100,000. In the absence of any evidence to the contrary, the Court finds that $150,000 is an adequate sales price. As to the "excluded" assets, Maxfield produced no evidence that any prepaid parts exist. Additionally, Maxfield presented no evidence that Bryco could obtain a higher price if the sale included the trade names, designs, customer lists, and license rights. Maxfield's argument that the sale has not been promoted adequately is without merit. Maxfield offered no suggestion as to what would constitute adequate promotion nor did he offer any suggestion as to how Bryco Arms might come up with the money necessary to engage in whatever undisclosed form of promotion Maxfield has in mind. Maxfield's argument that the proposed sale is not in good faith is also without merit. Maxfield argues that Bryco is selling its assets to an insider so that Jennings can one day "pick up the pieces" and resume operating, "continuing his attempts to manipulate the reorganization process to his individual benefit". However, the sale of assets in a bankruptcy case to a former employee, relative, or even back to the debtor is not illegal as long as it is for full value and the purchase is not funded with property of the estate. Finally, Maxfield contends that the sale is not in the best interests of the creditors. Again, Maxfield produced no evidence to support this assertion. Approval of the sale will bring $150,000 into the estate and will allow Bryco to save approximately $1,000 per day in expenses.

The Court finds that a good business reason exists to approve the proposed sale and that Maxfield's objections are without merit. Accordingly, it is

ORDERED:

1. Debtor's Application to Sell Certain Estate Property Outside the Ordinary Course of Business is approved.
2. The sale price is $150,000 net to the estate. The sale proceeds shall be deposited into a Trust Account maintained by Quarles & Brady, LLP within fifteen days of the date of this Order. The proceeds shall not be disbursed without further order of the Court.

3. Quarles & Brady, LLP shall file a Report of Sale within seven days of receipt of the funds.

4. Quarles & Brady LLP shall serve a copy of this Order upon all creditors and other interested parties within five days of the date of this Order.

5. Because the June 17, 2004 hearing was not adequately noticed, all creditors and other interested parties, except the United States Trustee and Maxfield, shall have twenty days from the date of this Order to file (and to serve upon Quarles & Brady, LLP) written objections to the sale. Any objection must specifically set forth the grounds upon which it is based. The Court will review all objections and will schedule for hearing only those that are meritorious.

6. Any claims against Bryco by Knowleton Communities, Inc. will be determined on motion, notice, and hearing.

DATED this 22 day of June, 2004 in Jacksonville, Florida.
